

Cardiac Network, Inc. Appoints New Members to its Advisory Board of Industry Experts

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6, 2009 -- Cardiac Network, Inc. (Other OTC:CNWI.PK) announced today two new additions to the company's advisory board. The Cardiac Network executive team chose Bruce Ferguson and Brandon Chabner as new members of the advisory board for their expertise and industry leadership in key areas of business development, strategic growth, regulatory compliance and entrepreneurial leadership.

"As we expand the company into new frontiers in mobile medical diagnostic devices and communication, Cardiac Network has focused on building a world-class team of experts to address every part of our business," said Michael Swartzburg, President & CEO of Cardiac Network, Inc. "We are proud that these respected professionals from various sectors of business have joined the Cardiac Network Advisory Board."

Bruce Ferguson currently serves as the CEO for iHire, Inc in Southern California. iHire is a total solution Recruitment Process Outsourcing (RPO) company, providing full life-cycle recruiting services primarily to High Tech and Bio-tech, Finance and Accounting, Professional Service organizations and medical care facilities. Bruce has over 30 years of operational management experience emphasizing a collaborative and decisive style. He has extensive experience in planning and managing for growth and has been called an innovator, risk taker and a visionary.

Prior to iHire, Bruce was with Exult, Inc., the first full service HR business process outsourcing (HR BPO) company. Exult provided across the board HR service delivery to global 500 companies. As part of the executive team the company grew to 2500 plus employees in just 5 years across the globe and almost 500 million in annual revenue before it was acquired in October of 2004. Prior to joining Exult, he was the National Director of Human Resources and Recruitment for the E&Y Consulting Practice. Bruce earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin. He has served as the co-chairman for the Human Resources Metrics Consortium and has authored a number of articles on the essentials of HR BPO and creating an effective BPO model.

Brandon S. Chabner has gained national recognition for his expertise in the areas of corporate law, regulatory compliance, securities, and mergers and acquisitions. He has extensive experience involving regulatory affairs in the biotechnology and medical device industries.

Prior affiliations include serving as an attorney with the law firms Fulbright and Jaworski, Hale and Dorr, and Greenberg Traurig, and general counsel for a privately held multimillion dollar revenue international distributor and trader of consumer electronic products located in Encino, California. Brandon is a graduate from Yale College, UCLA Law School, and Harvard Business School.

About Cardiac Network, Inc.

Cardiac Network, Inc. is a medical technology company providing cardiac monitoring and diagnostic services to general practitioners and specialist physicians, for the investigation of patients with abnormal cardiac rhythm and function. The service uses unique transtelephonic (by telephone) cardiac recorders that monitor and provide diagnostic information to physicians and their patients.

Contact:

Cardiac Network, Inc.
Michael Swartzburg, 415-362-2020
MichaelS@cardiacnetwork.net