

American Wholesale Health Agrees to Market Cardiac Network's Monitoring Services to its Members

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22, 2009 -- Cardiac Network, Inc. (Other OTC:CNWI.PK), a leader in advanced mobile medical monitoring, announced today that American Wholesale Health, or AWH, has agreed to market Cardiac Network's monitoring services to its members nationwide. AWH members will be given the opportunity to join Cardiac Network's revolutionary lifesaving HeartOne Club, that gives members their own compact ECG monitor, access to 24/7 cardiac monitoring and Personal Emergency Response Systems (PERS), which use GPS emergency "Panic Button" and location technology.

"American Wholesale Health is a company that offers its members the best in pharmaceutical products and medical services utilizing cutting-edge technology." stated Michael Swartzburg, Cardiac Network's President and CEO, "We are proud to be able to offer AWH members our premium HeartOne Club services."

As part of the agreement, the HeartOne Club will either be bundled with other services offered as part of AWH memberships or offered separately at a special discount to retail, with AWH receiving fees based on a pre-negotiated rate with the HeartOne Club. The HeartOne Club generates revenues through product sales and monthly billings to subscribers for its various monitoring services.
